SUMMARY

Over the course of 11 years, I worked in multiple companies as my career naturally evolved from Project Management into Engineering and Flutter Architecture. Each transition was intentional—focused on gaining deeper technical exposure, solving bigger problems, and contributing to products end-to-end. Rather than staying in my comfort zone, I consistently moved toward roles that offered stronger learning opportunities, leadership challenges, modern tech stacks, and increased ownership. This journey shaped me into a versatile Architect and problem-solver who can deliver high-quality mobile experiences at scale.
